July 2019

Dear Port Washington Parents,

It's a privilege for me to serve as your superintendent of schools and I am excited to embark on this exciting journey with the Port Washington community. Below is a preview of what I hope to accomplish during my first 100 days as your new superintendent.

My approach for the first three months centers around two primary objectives:

1. Conduct a comprehensive organizational review
2. Begin to build relationships with stakeholders within the community

I will be scheduling several meetings with staff members to develop a better understanding of the alignment of actions and daily practices in our district as they relate to district goals and outcomes. I will also use the valuable input from these meetings to gain a better understanding of the district's internal culture and establish the foundation for building positive professional relationships within the district.

I also understand it is important that I begin to immediately reach out to community stakeholders. Towards this end, I will be scheduling conversations with small and large group gatherings to better understand the successes and concerns that exist within our district. During my first three months, I hope to meet with over 300 of Port's stakeholders including students, parents, staff and members of organizations in the community.

Together, we will focus on ensuring that all students reach their true potential both inside and outside the classroom. I look forward to these first 100 days and all the wonderful accomplishments I am confident we will achieve working together in service to our students.

Please join me on Tuesday, July 30th at 7:30 p.m. and/or Monday, September 16th at 7:30 p.m. for my meet and greet events. I look forward to seeing you there!

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael J. Hynes
